WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15
COLORADO RIVER DAY

Choose from two options to experience the spectacular Colorado River.

Option one: Cataract Canyon River Trip and Scenic Flight (more challenging)

This 125-mile river trip begins in a calm, meandering section of the Colorado River. Watch impressive geologic formations pass by as you gently float beneath towering canyon walls. As you continue downriver, explore side canyons, hike to prehistoric ruins, and experience epic vistas.

After a picnic lunch, you will start to hit the rapids, ranging in difficulty up to class V as you roll through the canyon. Legendary rapids like the Big Drops, Mile Long, and Hell-to-Pay challenge river runners.

To return to Moab, you will take a private scenic flight over the three amazing and distinct districts of Canyonlands National Park. From the air, you’ll see the landscape from a new perspective—including highlights like the Chocolate Drops, the Doll House, Monument Basin, and the Grabens—before you touch down at Canyonlands Airfield.

Option two: Castle Valley River Trip and Scenic Flight (less challenging)

This 13-mile section of the Colorado River offers stunning views of Castle Valley and the famous Fisher Towers. It is the most popular Utah river trip and is a great introduction to river rafting. This trip offers calm waters for relaxation and plunging into the river, as well as sections of class III rapids to get your adrenaline flowing.

The trip will end at a beach where you will enjoy a picnic lunch and a chance to swim in the river.

Then take a shuttle to the small airstrip for an afternoon scenic flight over Canyonlands National Park.

Both groups meet back at the lodge this evening for a lecture and dinner.

CANYONEERING DAY

Canyoneering, basically the sport of exploring canyons, is a diverse and fun activity that can be enjoyed by most everyone. Select from three options based on your comfort level.

Option one: Arches Slot Canyoneering (less challenging)

This is a great adventure for those who are new to canyoneering, and for kids. The group will enjoy a low-angle rappel into a slot canyon. For those who do not wish to get on ropes, there is an option to hike up into the slot canyon to meet the group.

Option two: Dad Gum Canyoneering (more challenging)

This half-day trip explores Dad Gum Canyon with a more advanced free hanging rappel. Have a morning full of adrenaline and exploration, and an afternoon of free time.

Option three: Rock of Ages Canyoneering (most challenging)

This is for the most adventurous individuals who want to enjoy a full day of advanced canyoneering and rappelling.

Later this evening meet back together at the lodge for a farewell dinner.
