

Engage. Inspire. Empower.

As alumnae, we harness our collective power to bolster students and scholars at Harvard's Faculty of Arts and Sciences (FAS). By supporting the FAS with flexible, current-use gifts, we amplify the voices of Harvard women, make an immediate difference in the lives of students and faculty, and catalyze research to address the world's most pressing problems. Through the visibility of our impact, we inspire Harvard's next generation of leadership.

From pioneering philanthropists to the visionary leaders guiding the University today, Harvard women have long forged paths that transform generations, both in Cambridge and around the world. Our shared investment in today's scholars will empower the global leaders of tomorrow—support needed more urgently now than ever.
