Dear Class of 2014,

In the four years since we entered the Yard, we have witnessed extraordinary developments within the Harvard community, beyond its gates, and within ourselves. From freshman seminars to senior theses, intro meetings to leadership roles, and life in the Yard to our upperclass Houses, we have been challenged to think deeper and enhance our understanding of others. As a Class, we have traveled across campus and around the globe, broadening our own horizons and putting lessons into practice. We have sought opportunities to give back and to promote social change. We have achieved tremendous scholastic, extracurricular, athletic, and personal successes. And somehow along the way, we have also found the time to enjoy college life. We have formed friendships that will last a lifetime. Now is a time for us to celebrate these accomplishments, reflect with pride and gratitude on our time at Harvard, and look confidently ahead to the years to come.

But first, in only a few weeks, we will once again find ourselves the only undergraduates on campus. And now that we're nearing the end, I've come to realize that there are fewer differences between Camp Harvard and Senior Week than I might have expected. Yes, rather than being welcomed to the College and settling in, we will be packing up and heading off into life as alumni. Yet, just like we found it in August 2010 during Opening Days, Harvard will be entirely ours, perhaps more than ever. There are still new friends to be made, laughs to be shared, and memories to be created. As is always the case here, there is more to be learned, too. And there is still more fun to be had.

With this in mind, your Senior Class Committee and the Harvard Alumni Association have organized the events outlined in this booklet. From roller coasters and soirées to luaus and athletic competitions, these events will surely be some of the most fun and memorable of our time here. Take advantage of these opportunities to bond with friends and classmates and create memories that you'll talk about not just the morning after but also at our Fifth, Twenty-fifth, and Fiftieth Reunions.

And no matter where you find yourself after Commencement, always remember that Harvard—especially the Class of 2014—will be there for you as a source of support and community. Stay connected with one another and with our Class, and remember that our website (harvard14.org), class newsletters, regional Facebook groups and mailing lists, and local Harvard Clubs and Shared Interest Groups will be great sources of news, events, and connections in your new homes.

Make the most of the coming days and weeks—you have more than earned them. And don't forget that once our Harvard bubble bursts, there is a whole world out there. I can't wait to see all the ways each of you makes it a better place.

Wishing you all the very best,

Michelle Dimino

SENIOR DESK

Senior Desk is located at the Harvard Alumni Association (HAA) offices at 124 Mount Auburn Street, 6th Floor. Senior Desk will be open weekdays between 11:00 AM and 3:00 PM from Wednesday, May 7, through Wednesday, May 28 (Class Day). Please make an effort to pick up your tickets earlier in May rather than later. If you arrive on one of the last days Senior Desk is open, you can expect a considerable wait for your tickets. Get there early!

Before you pick up your Commencement Week tickets, you must complete the online senior exit survey, titled “Enrolled Student Survey.” If you are set to graduate and it has been acknowledged by your House administrator or resident dean, you will receive an email containing a unique URL that will give you access to the survey, starting May 6. Anyone who no longer has an active email address should contact ora_help@harvard.edu for instructions. The survey takes 24 hours to process, so please wait one business day before picking up your tickets at Senior Desk.

Please bring your HUID, as only you can pick up your Commencement Week tickets—no exceptions. Your parents were invited to all the Commencement Week events in a mailing sent out in March, with the option of ordering additional tickets to the Senior Class Family Dinner and Party and the Class Day Picnic; these tickets will be available for pickup at Senior Desk. Additional tickets for these events may also be purchased at Senior Desk with cash or credit card. There is no limit to the number of additional tickets you can purchase for these two events.

LIFE AFTER HARVARD

All Harvard graduates are automatically members of the Harvard Alumni Association (HAA), a dues-free organization. The HAA offers a wealth of opportunities to stay connected to Harvard and its alumni community, as well as excellent alumni benefits, including social, educational, and career events; distance learning; volunteer opportunities; and travel-study trips. For more information, visit alumni.harvard.edu.

2014 CLASS COMMITTEE

Your Class is the heart of your alumni activity. The principal officers of the Class of 2014 are the eight class marshals, the secretary, the treasurer, the media team, the 12 House representatives, and the five gift co-chairs. There are many purposes for the class organization: camaraderie, communication, fundraising, and volunteer programs. After graduation, many feel that the most important class event is the Reunion, held every five years. However, between reunion years, the Class sponsors other social events in Cambridge and around the world. If you keep your address current with University Alumni Records or through alumni.harvard.edu, you will be notified of future class events. Also, remember to visit harvard14.org for updated information about your Class.

COLLEGE ALUMNI PROGRAMS OFFICE

The College Alumni Programs office serves more than 98,000 Harvard and Radcliffe alumni and alumnae. The office oversees and develops programming to preserve and maintain Harvard traditions and to create new opportunities to connect the Harvard community with one another and to the intellectual capital of the University. Programming for our alumni network includes Harvard-Yale Weekend, the quinquennial Reunions and class reports, undergraduate/alumni events, and recent graduate networking events, such as Welcome to Your City receptions.

UNIVERSITY ALUMNI RECORDS

To keep informed about your class, send your address and biographical information updates to University Alumni Records (UAR) or update your information through alumni.harvard.edu. The UAR office can be reached by mail at 124 Mount Auburn Street, 4th Floor, Cambridge, MA 02138-5762; by phone at 617-495-2371; and by email at aro@harvard.edu. UAR keeps several offices in the University informed of the addresses and biographical information of graduates. It is important to keep UAR current with your information.

ALUMNI EDUCATION

Learning opportunities at Harvard don't end just because you have a degree. If you stay local to Cambridge or visit campus, we invite you to take part in a variety of learning and social experiences designed to keep alumni connected with the intellectual life of the University. These include gallery social events featuring Harvard's world-renowned museums, a career networking series, and lectures and special presentations by distinguished faculty and alumni on everything from health care to space exploration to entrepreneurship to public service. For information on current programs, visit alumni.harvard.edu/programs-events.

ALUMNI TRAVEL

The HAA also runs a travel-study program that allows you to continue your education while experiencing some of the world's most interesting places. With over 80 destinations on all seven continents, choose from trips by land, rail, and cruise, as well as family adventures and even spring break trips for alumni and students traveling together. Harvard faculty study leaders and expert local guides bring to light the intellectual, cultural, and historical context of your destination. For information on current trips, visit alumni.harvard.edu/travel.

HARVARD CLUBS

Stretching from Prague to Los Angeles to Shanghai, the nearly 190 Harvard Clubs worldwide welcome the participation of recent graduates. Joining a Harvard Club is a great way to meet new friends, establish ties across years and Schools, and stay connected to the University. Many clubs have recent-graduate committees that plan social, career networking, and community service activities. A number of clubs even offer free first-year membership to the Class of 2014. Please note that the Harvard Clubs of Boston and New York City are the only clubs with physical clubhouses, and they have unique membership procedures.

For a full list of Harvard Clubs, visit alumni.harvard.edu/haa/clubs-signs or contact the HAA Clubs and SIGs office via email at clubs@harvard.edu.

HARVARD SHARED INTEREST GROUPS (SIGS)

Are you interested in connecting with recent graduates or other Harvard alumni around a particular student activity, affinity, or religion? Would you like to find other alumni who feel passionately about a specific profession or cultural pursuit? Are you looking to help strengthen your own community? The nearly 50 HAA Shared Interest Groups (SIGs) connect thousands of students, recent graduates, and alumni around the world to one another and to the University through local programming, websites, social media, and a variety of HAA programs. These organizations run the gamut in terms of their interests, which range from student activity to cultural identity and from profession to religion. Examples include Harvard Alumni in Food and Wine, the Harvard Black Alumni Society, and the Harvard Jewish Alumni Network.

For a full list of HAA SIGs, please visit alumni.harvard.edu/haa/clubs-signs or contact the HAA Clubs and SIGs office via email at clubs@harvard.edu.

A CAUTIONARY WORD ABOUT ALCOHOL AND IDENTIFICATION

As you all know by now, you must be at least 21 years old in order to be served alcohol. Anyone who wishes to drink a beverage containing alcohol may do so only if he or she is able to produce a valid state- or government-issued photo ID. In compliance with the law of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the College and its agents will not serve alcoholic beverages to any student or other individual below the legal age.

Your birth date appears on your College ID; however, this is not a valid ID for proof of age. Seniors should carry both a valid College ID and state- or government-issued ID at all Senior Week events. If you wish to drink alcohol at any of the events where alcohol will be served, you must be prepared to show your state driver's license, a state liquor ID, or a valid passport. For the Moonlight Cruise and Last Chance Dance, you will need at least one of the IDs listed above in addition to your Harvard ID to be admitted.

No one is allowed to bring alcohol to any of the events described in this book. Additionally, the presentation of false identification will be, as always, considered a violation of University rules and Massachusetts law. Students violating these rules will be subject to disciplinary sanctions. Because of the liability involved, any obvious or widespread violation of the regulations could result in the cancellation of subsequent events.
