Nonprofit Board Recruitment Fair 2019

Presented by the Harvard Club of Boston, the Harvard Alumni Association, and the Center for Public Interest Careers

May 9, 2019
6:30 p.m.
Harvard Club of Boston
The Harvard Club of Boston, the Harvard Alumni Association, and the Center for Public Interest Careers (CPIC) extend our warmest welcome to the attendees of the 2019 Nonprofit Board Recruitment Fair!

Below, you’ll find brief descriptions and contact information for each organization. We hope you enjoy familiarizing yourself with the work of these organizations. Please note that while CPIC reached out to a wide-range of organizations to participate, not all registered organizations have worked with CPIC in the past. CPIC cannot guarantee or endorse the work of specific organizations, so attendees should note that they are responsible for exercising their own due diligence if making a commitment to a particular organization.

Bikes Not Bombs
Since 1990, Bikes Not Bombs has worked with youth from low-income communities in Boston, who are mostly African-American or Latin-American. We have a reputation for effecting deep community change. Rather than just offer drop-in programs to youth, we ask them to commit to us, and we commit to them. The youth we work with see BNB as their second home and as they grow, so do their opportunities. This is, in part, how we are able to cultivate the active and sustained participation of young people, a key strength of our programming and our program graduates go on to lead powerful and meaningful lives.

Cantata Singers
Cantata Singers is an impactful, 55-year-old chorus and ensemble with deep connections in Boston and Harvard. Our music is rooted in Bach, but our organization has grown to be so much more. We frequently commission new works which speak to social issues (e.g. Lamentations (2017) – a reflection on the immigrant crisis, and Slavery Documents (1990) and Slavery Documents 2 (2002) – pieces drawn from writings about the horrors of slavery and the resilience of African Americans). We also have a robust music education program, Classroom Cantatas, which addresses a dire need for music education in Boston’s Public Schools. Simply put, we believe we have something to say through our music and that it can be a powerful force for reflection and progress.

COGdesign
COGdesign draws on a wide network of landscape architects and landscape designers who work pro bono with our community partners to create together schematic designs for neighborhood green space. COG solicits applications from under-resourced communities in the Fall, then matches them with pairs of designers and facilitates a transparent, three-community-meeting process which ends with the delivery of the design in Spring. We are a first step for low-income community groups to realize their vision of a neighborhood green space: a park, a community garden, a plaza, a playground.
