

2019 Nonprofit Board Recruitment Fair

Harvard Club of New York City

April 15, 2019

The Center for Public Interest Careers (CPIC), the Harvard Club of New York City, and the Harvard Alumni Association extend our warmest welcome to the attendees of the 2019 Nonprofit Board Recruitment Fair!

Below, you'll find brief descriptions and contact information for each organization. We hope you enjoy familiarizing yourself with the work of these organizations. Please note that while CPIC reached out to a wide-range of organizations to participate, not all of the registered organizations have worked with CPIC in the past. CPIC cannot guarantee or endorse the work of specific organizations, so attendees should note that they are responsible for exercising their own due diligence if making a commitment to a particular organization.

Participating Organizations

14th Street Y of the Educational Alliance

Think of us as the town square of the downtown community. Everyone from every background is welcome at the 14th Street Y, as we celebrate our humanity and our individuality. This is your community. Meet friends here and make new ones. Feed your imagination with a class or performance. Build your strength and stamina in our attitude-free fitness center. The 14th Street Y's philosophy is grounded in the belief that contemporary Jewish sensibilities can be a source of inspiration, connection, and learning. No matter what your background, we aim to inspire you to live your best life. We're committed to the development of the whole person, to strengthening family connections and to building inclusive and sustainable communities.

Partnership with Children

Partnership with Children works in schools in high-poverty communities in New York City, providing critical social-emotional learning programs and mental health services for the hardest-to-reach students, and engaging families in the school community. Originally called Big Sisters, Partnership with Children (PWC) was established in 1908 to provide support and mentorship for girls referred by the family court system. In the early 1990s, we made the strategic decision to place full-time social workers and mental health clinicians into schools in the City's most underserved and under resourced communities. Today, PWC works in public schools across all five boroughs in New York City. We provide trauma-informed counseling, family and community outreach, and training for school staff to build the capacity so that students living in communities affected by trauma and toxic stress can learn and develop tools to thrive. Our mission is to strengthen the emotional, social, and academic skills of children so that they can succeed in school, society, and life. We currently have social workers and community school directors placed full-time in 29 public schools across all five boroughs.
