TRAVEL PROGRAMS

DEAR HARVARD ALUMNI TRAVELER,

As I celebrate my 10th year as director of Harvard Alumni Travels, I proudly present this colorful snapshot of the variety of experiences offered in 2017—trips inspired by you, our travelers. Since my first trip with the HAA in 2006 on a rail journey through remote regions of China, I've traveled with over 1,000 members of the diverse alumni community, forming friendships throughout many journeys.

Our upcoming programming fills me with excitement, as Harvard continues to innovate, personalize, and push the envelope with our trips. Come explore the ancient and modern connections between China and Japan; take a weeklong seminar exploring Georgia's wine growing region; experience a brand new expedition camp near the edge of the Greenland ice sheet; learn about Barcelona's culture through food with Michael Brenner of Harvard's famous "Science and Cooking;" or bring the entire family on adventures to Greece, Tanzania, Costa Rica, or Southeast Asia; and the list goes on.

Harvard Alumni Travels continues to be on the forefront of travel, as we were with Cuba when "People to People" programs were reinstated in 2011. We will continue to visit this fascinating island nation through newly introduced cruises and our traditional in-depth, land-based cultural programs.

We are also thrilled to announce, through our partnership with the Harvard Museums of Science & Culture (HMSC), unique trips such as viewing the total solar eclipse in Wyoming and gorilla trekking in Uganda—and also exclusive itineraries for HBS alumni featuring more adventurous activities in remote locations.

More information on each trip can be found in upcoming individual trip brochures and email announcements, at our website, or by calling us at 1-800-422-1636.

Thank you for traveling with Harvard Alumni Travels. I look forward to the alumni I will meet and the amazing places we will experience together.

Gratefully,

Trearty Bartley
Director, Harvard Alumni Travels

CONNECT

Traveling with Harvard proves you don't need to live in Cambridge to remain part of the Harvard community. The knowledgeable professors who serve as study leaders on our trips provide their academic expertise in addition to updates about campus happenings. Programs like Spring Break in Greece connect you with young alumni and current undergraduate students as well as your peers. Traveling with fellow alumni allows you to see the world while staying connected.
