THE LEGACY OF THE MAYA: Belize & Guatemala
February 25–March 5, 2019
with Mark Van Baalen
Escape to Central America for the perfect winter getaway. Belize and Guatemala offer some of the most breathtaking scenery: thick tropical forests stretching up towards the misty heights of the sparsely populated Maya Mountains, extraordinary Maya archaeology, exuberant wildlife, Spanish colonial heritage, impressive volcanoes, and a vibrant indigenous culture. Discover two amazing Central American countries, while staying in charming, luxurious, tropical boutique hotels and lodges.

Your adventure starts in Belize from where you travel to the Pine Ridge area for explorations of the ancient Maya cities of Caracol and Xunantunich. Continue to Guatemala to visit the impressive archaeological site of Tikal surrounded by the exuberant forest of the Petén. Your journey then takes you to Lake Atitlán, considered one of the most beautiful lakes in the world, with visits to indigenous open-air markets. Learn about the living Maya of today, their culture, and communities, as well as local textiles and music.

Your tour concludes in the graceful and charming colonial town of Antigua, a UNESCO World Heritage site.

A LITTLE MORE TO IT
My walking shoes are laced up tight and I’m ready to keep up with my traveling companions. I look forward to getting to know them on the drives and/or flights we’ll take between cities. I enjoy getting around in Zodiac rafts and 4x4 vehicles for short durations. A little mental and physical stimulation will do me good!

Study Leader

Mark Van Baalen
has served the University in a variety of roles since 1962. He received his A.B. in Astronomy in 1966. Since 1995 he has been a Lecturer and Associate in the Dept. of Earth and Planetary Sciences. During that time he taught popular courses in physical and environmental geology, and acted as mentor to many undergraduates.

Mark and his wife Louisa, who recently retired from the Kennedy School of Government, have traveled in the region of Mesoamerica for nearly fifty years, visiting many of the major Mayan sites. As an astronomer, Mark has studied the contributions of Mayan astronomers to the development of modern calendars that reflect our understanding of the movements of heavenly bodies. The Mayan calendar is a wonderful, endless set of interlocking circles. One of the unexplained mysteries of history is the abrupt collapse of the Mayan civilization around 800 AD. Mark has investigated the role of climate change in bringing this stage of history to an end.

DAY 1 MONDAY, FEBRUARY 25
US / Belize City / Pine Ridge area
Depart the U.S. and fly to Belize City, Belize. Transfer to your hotel in the Pine Ridge area. Welcome reception and dinner.
Hidden Valley Inn (D)

DAY 2 TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26
Caracol
Spend a full day at Caracol, the largest Maya site in Belize and one of the most impressive in Central America. The ruins were lost in the rainforest for several centuries until their rediscovery by chicleros in 1936. Once Caracol has been fully excavated it may dwarf even the great city of Tikal. The site is a Natural Monument Reserve, and heaven for wildlife as well as archeologists. Look out for exotic birds and other wildlife as you meander through the ruins. On the return to the lodge, stop the massive Rio Frio cave and nearby pools where you may consider taking a refreshing dip.
Hidden Valley Inn (B, L, D)

DAY 3 WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 27
Xunantunich / Flores (Guatemala)
Drive to the nearby Xunantunich Maya Site. An impressive well-excavated site, Xunantunich was a thriving Maya city during the Classic Period, from about 600 to 900 A.D. You reach this major ceremonial center by crossing the Mopan River aboard a hand-cranked car-ferry. Once there, the site provides an impressive view of the entire river valley; its centerpiece, El Castillo, rises 120 feet above the plaza, making it one of the tallest buildings in Belize. After lunch travel to the Petén jungle in Guatemala where Tikal is located.
Las Lagunas Boutique Hotel (B, L, D)

DAY 4 THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 28
Tikal
Today explore Tikal, one of the grandest of the Mayan cities. Tikal flourished in the Classic period from A.D. 250 to 900 until it suddenly collapsed its population vanished. The jungle closed over the ancient metropolis and for a thousand years it lay buried under its cover. A UNESCO World Heritage site, Tikal has been under excavation and reconstruction since the late 1950s. Its location within a national park provides excellent opportunities for wildlife viewing. Today, Tikal is an extraordinary exhibit of temple pyramids topped with stone roofed combs towering above the surrounding Petén jungle. Plazas, deep reservoirs, carved stelae, and massive altars rise from the rainforest floor. Visit the Tikal Museum and the Lithic and Stelae Museums to view treasures from the excavations.
Las Lagunas Boutique Hotel (B, L, D)

DAY 5 FRIDAY, MARCH 1
Lake Atitlán
Take a morning flight to Guatemala City and transfer to Lake Atitlán. With breathtaking volcanic panoramas, Atitlán is considered one of the most beautiful volcanic lakes in the world. On the way, visit the authentic Indian market of Sololá. See men in their traditional dress of gold-embroidered jackets distinctive of the town and behold stunning mountainside views of the lake. Alternatively, visit the Maya archaeological site of Iximché once the capital of the Maya Kaqchiquel before arriving at your hotel located on the shores of Lake Atitlán and featuring beautiful gardens.
Hotel Atitlán (B, L, D)

DAY 6 SATURDAY, MARCH 2
Santa Cruz / San Juan La Laguna
Enjoy the views as you take a pleasant boat ride to Santa Cruz, one of the 12 Indian villages...
DAY 7 SUNDAY, MARCH 3
Chichicastenango / Antigua Guatemala

Depart for Chichicastenango, an Indian village nestled in the highlands at 7,000 feet. Spend the morning at the colorful native market of Chichicastenango, the largest in Central America. Here vendors sell flowers, textiles, food, pottery, handicrafts and more! Enjoy seeing the indigenous women from surrounding villages wearing superb native dress of heavily embroidered blouses. In addition, see beautiful carved masks. After lunch, transfer to the town of Antigua Guatemala and to your lovely hotel located in what it was a 17th-century monastery.
Casa Santo Domingo (B, L, D)

DAY 8 MONDAY, MARCH 4
Antigua

At 5,000 feet in a valley surrounded by 14,000-foot volcanoes, Antigua is one of the most charming of the colonial towns of the Americas and is a World Heritage site. This morning’s walking tour starts at the Central Park and includes the Ayuntamiento (Administrative building), Cathedral, Convent of the Capuchinas, and Merced Church, among other sites. Continue to Casa K’Ojom for the preservation of Maya music and instruments, and visit the Centro Cultural La Azotea to see a collection of typical dresses of the region.
Casa Santo Domingo (B, L, D)

DAY 9 TUESDAY, MARCH 5
Antigua / US

Transfer to the international airport for your return flight home. (B)
This exclusive expedition is designed for Harvard alumni and friends who are interested in learning about the nature, history, culture, and archaeology of Belize and Guatemala. Visits include some of the finest rainforest reserves in Central America plus the archaeological sites of Xunantunich and Tikal and the colonial and cultural wonders of the highlands of Guatemala. While at the national parks, reserves, and colonial towns, there is a daily program of nature exploration, guided rain forest and historical walks, and educational discussions. This program is described as active to moderately active and includes hiking and walking over unpaved uneven and sometimes slippery surfaces often without handrails. Travel is by motor coach, vans, chartered planes, or scheduled flights, ferry, and motor launch with daily walks of up to two miles in length at a leisurely pace suitable for nature study and Maya ruins explorations. Typically, the weather is hot and humid in the rainforest (mid 80s); and spring like in the highlands. Even in the dry season, when this trip is scheduled, some rain can be expected. Since some of the travel will be in remote areas, everyone must be flexible concerning time schedules. This program is a tremendous experience for travelers who are in good shape, able to walk, with an appetite for adventure who can tolerate some insects, heat, and bumpy dirt roads for the chance to explore superb archaeological and natural areas.
